Diverse Leadership in Life Sciences

In this event we will have a round-robin, moderated panel discussion addressing a range of current industry topics from Remote Audits and Cell and Gene Therapy Regulatory compliance to personal challenges in the work place and current realities of working in a COVID-19 era. This event will be moderated by Jim Polarine, Senior Technical Service Manager at STERIS Corporation. This panel consists of leaders within Life Sciences, and they will discuss current trends, issues, career opportunities and their own paths to get to the leadership positions that they currently reside.
